Fitts Tells Of His War On Gangsters

Eastern Racketeers Unable To Gain Foothold, Says District Attorney

In a speech at the school auditorium on Saturday night District Attorney Burton Fitts told his audience that the efficiency of his department as now constituted alone is responsible for the fact that organized gangsters of Chicago and other metropolitan cities have not been able to extend their operation to Los Angeles county.

Fitts gave credit to his associates in his office for the success which the office has enjoyed in decreasing crime and increasing convictions during the past years.

The policy of the prosecuting office, he said, has been to so constantly harass the criminals that they had no chance to organize—as they have in the East. To accomplish this it has been necessary to work in cooperation with the other districts.

"In the past four years," he went on, "we have handled many cases of National importance, and that we have handled them successfully is due to the efficient organization of efficient men we have built up. Any new man going into the District Attorney's office at this stage—regardless of how honest, how efficient as a lawyer, would be new to the job. He would naturally wish to install his own operative machinery. During this time of change opportunity would be given to the gangsters to organize." He pointed out that once such a thing happened they would be as

Political Rallies Stir Interest In Primary Election

Two political meetings and the appearance at a Kiwanis Club luncheon of the local Representative in Congress during the week did much to stimulate interest in next Tuesday's primary election and it is expected that a large percentage of the more than 2,000 registered voters here will cast their ballots.

There is a growing interest in the contest for the district attorney and in the various judicial contests. Little interest is shown in the fight for the Republican nomination for Congress and it is assumed that Congressman W. E. Evans will carry the city by a large majority.

Sierra Madreans are much interested in the fight for the United States Senate, the Republicans being apparently well divided between Senator Shortridge, Tallant Tubbs, the dripping wet aspirant, and Joe Crail, the very dry. Appearance in the city last Monday of J. S. Wardell, candidate for the Democratic nomination, has stirred his followers to great activity.

With a home town candidate for the Assembly in the person of City Business Manager Al S. Myers the legislative contest in the 48th district is considered of much importance, since Sierra Madre is afforded a splendid opportunity to send its first representative to Sacramento. Because of time factional political enemies of Myers have been carrying on a quiet warfare against him his friends are urging that every possible vote be cast in his interest here as a matter of civic pride.

Hotel Building Is Being Transformed Into Apartments

The old hotel building in the business block on North Baldwin avenue, is now being remodeled by Dr. G. W. Groth and soon the upper floor will house six modern apartments.

Work will also start soon on a new stucco front to replace the old and yellow wooden one, according to Dr. Groth. The rear of the building has already been reconstructed, and new plumbing and wiring has been added. Within the past year Dr. Groth has built the two stores that occupy the ground floor and has been carrying on preliminary work toward opening the apartments.

The new stucco front will be of Spanish design to harmonize with the adjoining buildings.

New Highway Into Mountains Climbs High Above Big Dam

The new Santa Anita Highway now under construction by the Los Angeles County Road Department, was officially inspected Monday by C. P. Collins, resident engineer. The road has now progressed to a point directly above the Santa Anita dam, two miles from where construction started at Double Drive and Grand View avenue a year ago.

When completed, the project will extend to Winter Creek, about a mile above Robert's Camp, and eventually will connect with the road being built through from the desert side of the range to the Arroyo Seco to form a continuous highway from the desert to the sea.

LOCAL IMPROVEMENT OF FOOTHILL BLVD.

ASSESSED FOR $221,000

Assessments levied for the improvement of Foothill Boulevard from Sierra Madre avenue in Pasadena to the westerly limits of Monrovia were approved by the Board of Supervisors on Monday, thus completing the final step in the $221,000 project. County Road Commissioner George W. Jones submitted approval of the work done under contract by George W. Oswald. The assessment against property is at the rate of $5 a foot for the improvement.

With all of the budget slashes and economies which are necessary for the coming term, there will be no decrease in the advantages offered pupils, say the school officials.

As for the physical facilities, they all have been under continual care during the summer. So little Freddie need have no worry that he won't be able to buckle right down to serious study the first week.

Depressions come, and depressions go—but school goes on forever.

THIS IS LOGICAL PLACE FOR THIRD BIG ART CENTER, SAYS MEMBER OF ROYAL ACADEMY

By Henry Ivins Haeckel
Should the King of England, Mussolini or the chief potentate from Patagonia sojourn in Sierra Madre they will be interviewed for an expression about our fast developing Municipal Art League. When I heard that Gordon Coutts of the Royal Academy of London, was staying at Hayden Court I decided to interview him on the subject.

As briefly as possible I explained to Mr. Coutts the tentative plans for an art league here. "and what do you think of it?" I queried.

"It is an inspiration," he said enthusiastically. "The fostering the teaching of art—ah—'he elevated his shoulders in an expressive manner. '... this idea of making the acquiring of art study as free as your glorious air is a magnificent gesture. Think how grateful the younger generation will be in future years for this guidance. Think how much fuller and richer will be their love of the things that make life most worth while. Money, yes, we all must have a little money, too, but art, culture, is a wealth that is locked within our souls."

HERBERT HOOVER JR. FAMILY BECOME SIERRA MADREANS

MRS. HERBERT HOOVER, JR.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover Jr., with her husband and three children, Margaret Ann, Herbert Hoover, III, and another small daughter, have been here for some time.

The exterior brickwork is finished white, after the fashion of early California. In the basement a battery of heating units has been installed. A modern burglar alarm system protects the entire five acres from marauders.

The caretaker's quarters were moved back from the residence proper to make room for an ample structure which will house full equipment for experimental radio work. Here Mr. Hoover may indulge his chief hobby, aided by a shopful of electrical equipment. Two thirty-five foot radio masts are erected outdoors.

The Hoovers have resided in San Marino for the past four years and Mrs. Hoover has been active socially. She was one of the hostesses at the Olympic Ball in Los Angeles.

The older daughter, Margaret Ann, is known to the immediate family as Peggy Ann, and Herbert Hoover III is called "Peter" by the family.

MONTECITO AVENUE HOME CHANGES HANDS

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Koons, who formerly resided on East Montecito avenue, recently purchased the Henry Bergen home at 41 West Montecito through Woodson F. Jones, local realtor. Bergen lives in Long Beach, and has not occupied his house here for some years.

To Arms, Fans-- Help Soldiers Win A Pennant

WANTED—A big crowd of Sierra Madreans to go to Brookside Park tonight and root, root, for the home team... our Sierra Madre soldiers... in their battle for the Legion League pennant.

It's this way: The Sierra Madre and Pasadena Legion teams clash in the most important game of the year. Each team has won an equal number of games during the second half of the League season and are tied for first place. Pasadena won first place in the first half of the playing season. If it wins tonight it has the pennant clinched. But...

If the Sierra Madre soldiers win it will undoubtedly give them the flag for the second half. Then the two teams will go into a three-game clinch for the championship. One and probably two of these games would be played on the local athletic field.

Something to root for, isn't it?

Two games next week round out the local schedule. Tuesday they meet East Pasadena, and Friday, Terrace City. Neither of these games are considered obstacles in the pennant fight.

Beautification Of Cities And Towns Is To Be Continued

President Adolph Schleicher of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, announces the perpetuation of the work of the Olympic Beautification Committee which resulted not only in the planting of over a million packages of flower seeds and miles of highway planting, but also the employment of a large number of unemployed.

The future work will be divided in two distinct phases. One to have flowers blooming in every front garden in Los Angeles County by the year 'round.

The second to build up public sentiment to eliminate the indiscriminate and illegitimate plastering of our roadsides, fences and trees with nondescript signs and posters. The purpose of this Committee is to beautify Los Angeles County, and not have that beauty hidden by hideous advertising.

Local Youth Joins Party In Climb To Mt. Whitney's Peak

Howard MacBurney, of Sierra Madre, left early this morning on a trip into the northern Sierra. His party plans on parking their car at Lone Pine, in the Owens Valley, and with their food packed on the backs, to climb to the peak of Mt. Whitney, which is well over 14,000 feet in height, and the highest peak in the United States.

SCHOOL TAX RATE FOR VALLEY TOWNS FIXED

Comparative city school tax rates show that South Pasadena has the highest rate of increase of any of the nearby communities whose tax rate has been announced. Their rate jumped from $1.96 last year to $2.41 this year. Other cities and towns' rates are: Los Angeles, $1.62 to $1.81, an increase of 12 percent; Long Beach, $1.90 to $1.81, decrease of five percent; Pasadena, $2.08 to $2.20, an increase of six percent. Alhambra remained stationary at $1.91.

Evans Tells How Taxes Must Be Cut

Reduction In Cost Of State And Local Governments Only Hope For Relief

"There can be no substantial relief from excessive taxation until we reduce the cost of our local governments—in the States, counties and the cities," said Congressman W. E. Evans in an address before the Kiwanis Club and its guests at the noon luncheon on Tuesday.

He had just told how the Congress had lopped $700,000,000 off the Federal budget as a step towards cutting down the enormous public debt that had been piling up at the rate of $7,500,000 a day. He said Congress as well as the Nation was shocked when a message from the President had called attention to the alarming rate at which the deficit was growing and how, through practice of governmental economies and passage of a revenue bill adding additional taxes, Congress had set about to balance the budget.

Mr. Evans said he had personally favored a direct sales tax, levied at the source, as the best means of raising the required additional revenue and that he was persuaded this was the most satisfactory method after witness from Canada, where the sales tax has been in effect for 10 years, had been called before a Congressional committee. The Canadians testified, he said, that the manufacturer in a majority of cases absorbed the sales tax and that the ultimate consumer was scarcely aware of its existence.

Relating how $180,000,000 had been slashed off salaries of Federal employees, Mr. Evans called attention to the fact that the average pay of government employees is only $1440 a year and expressed the opinion that there should be no reduction in salaries where they were under $2,000.

Returning to the subject of tax reduction the Congressman pointed out that the four billions it costs to carry on the Federal government each year is but 30 per cent of the amount annually raised by taxation, the remainder of the 14 billions going towards the upkeep of the States, counties and cities.

"You will readily see," he said, "that the real relief we all want must come from a reduction in the cost of local governments."

Discussing the operation of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Mr. Evans said it would undoubtedly operate as successfully as the War Finance Corporation did during the World War, calling attention to the fact that in addition to its marvelous benefits, the War Finance Corporation had closed its affairs long after the war was over with a balance to the good of $50,000,000.

Answering the often heard criticism that funds of the R.F.C. would flow out only to and for the benefit of the big banks, railroads and other great corporations of the metropolitan centers, Mr. Evans cited the organization's operations since it began to function.

Until just a few days ago, he said, 4,158 loans had been authorized and of these approximately 3,600 had been to banks outside the great cities of the country—70 per cent to banks in cities having a population of less than 5,000; 78 per cent in towns with a population of less than 10,000 and nearly 87 per cent in towns with a population of less than 25,000.

"The bill authorizing the creation of this agency," said Mr. Evans, "will make available five billions of dollars without any tax whatsoever upon the people of this Nation, and from the figures I have quoted you will see that it is going out among the masses."

Creation of the R.F.C. had been of immediate and positive effect in helping to pull the country out of the depression by putting more money into circulation, Evans declared.

"Prior to its operation," he said, "banks were failing at the rate of about 500 a month throughout the country and now there are very few failures."

Discussing the Garner "pork barrel" bill vetoed by President Hoover, Mr. Evans said it would have added tremendously to the tax burden of the people by adding, needlessly, huge amounts in lasting overhead charges. In support of his contention he cited its effects in this. The Eleventh Congressional district in which he is seeking re-election.

The bill would have required the erection of 13 new Federal buildings in the district, he said, each costing not less than $50,000. The upkeep of the buildings, later, would have been several hundred per cent greater than the total present cost of operating the government activities in the same communities.

"Besides," said the Congressman, "the bill would have required the expenditure of fabulous amounts for the deepening of rivers where there is no commerce, the creation of ports where there is no shipping and for many other equally absurd purposes, each one of which would have required the levying of additional taxes for upkeep and salaries long after the depression has passed into history and been almost forgotten."

Reopening Of Budget Is Suggested

Kohl And Political Associates Present Resolution To The City Council

A lengthy resolution adopted by officers of the Sierra Madre Improvement and Protective Association proposing that the City Council reconsider the vote by which it adopted the tax levy ordinance and proceed to revise the budget as prescribed by the resolution, was presented to the Council on Wednesday night.

Presented by H. J. Kohl, action to carry through the recommendations of the resolution was urged by Mr. Kohl and his factional political associates, former Councilmen Henry Isaacs and Joseph Belohlavek and C. J. Young, leaders of the opposition to the Council.

Announcing that its recommendations would bring about a reduction of $10,000 in the budget, the resolution proposed that the positions of Business Manager and Assistant City Clerk be abolished, that the $700 set up for promotion be eliminated, that the allowance for police protection be reduced, that the allowance for the City Engineer's department be reduced to $600, that the item of $700 for building inspection be dropped, that a straight salary be provided for the City Attorney, that there be a further reduction in the allowance for street cleaning and rubbish removal and that an item of $750 for repair of culverts be stricken out.

A paragraph of the resolution devoted to the item of $4200 for street lighting expressed the belief that the amount was "excessive and extravagant" and recommended that "drastic action be taken to cut down this very considerable item."

A preamble to the resolution protested against an increase of from $1.99 to $2.40 in the tax rate and cited the fact that Monrovia had maintained its rate of $1.60 for the current year.

When City Clerk Pratt read the resolution Mayor Reavis announced that opportunity had been given any citizen to make suggestions for the making of the budget before its adoption and that the time for this had now passed. He said the Council had made a conscientious effort to eliminate every unnecessary item, that it had reduced salaries and proposed other savings that would bring the cost of operating the city $6,000 below last year and called attention to the fact that the Council was not just now beginning to economize, but that it had reduced the tax rate 23 cents last year. There was no possible way of avoiding the requirements for sinking fund and interest charges on bond issues voted by the people, he said, and these amounted to very considerably more than the amount set up for carrying on the city's activities.

He said the county assessors had reduced the assessed valuation of the city nearly $680,000 and that the old tax rate would not have raised a sum sufficient on the new valuation to anything like meet the cost of bond requirement and operating costs. Even with the increase in the tax rate, he said, the taxpayer will pay less than last year.

"We are back now," said the Mayor, "to where we were in 1924 when the population of the city was slightly more than 2,000. In that year it cost $67,891.02 to run the city. We have cut down last and this year until now we see a way to come through with about $68,200. In 1928 $80,343.15 was spent to carry on the city. Since that time it has been necessary to provide additional revenue for sinking fund and interest charges on the water bond issue of $130,000 authorized in 1928. In that period we have reduced the water bond issue $16,000."

"I don't think you have done justice to anyone—coming in here with this resolution. It was not proper. We know as well as you do that the cost of street lighting is much more than it should be, but you know as well as we do that the light is supplied under contract and that we are without power to require that it be supplied for less."

Mr. Young urged that the services of Solicitor Dodson be dispensed with and Mr. Kohl wanted to know why profits of the water department were not applied to

Submarine Attack Says Mayor Reavis

The following statement was issued by Mayor H. Clay Reavis after the adjournment of the City Council on Wednesday night:

"The appearance before the Council tonight of Mr. Kohl and his associates, the former Councilmen who were recalled here, was not in good faith as an effort to bring about a reduction in our municipal tax rate. They had notice that the tax levy ordinance would come before the Council two weeks ago and had no suggestions to make. During the week that elapsed between the first reading and final passage of the tax levying ordinance they remained silent."

"Now, well knowing that it was too late to make any suggestions, they came before the Council in what amounted to nothing more nor less than an eleventh hour submarine attack to injure the chances of Business Manager Al S. Myers in his fight for the Legislature in the 48th Assembly district."

"To my mind it was a low piece of political business and I believe the people of Sierra Madre will so regard it. However, it was the undoubted purpose of the assault, to injure Mr. Myers in distinct parts of the district where the situation is not as well understood as it is here in the home town."

reducing the water bond issue, demanding to know to what use "the $20,000 profit from the water department" would be put this year.

Mayor Reavis said it had never been stated that the water department earned $20,000 a year, but that the profits had accumulated last year until $20,000 was on hand, of which $8,000 was applied to bond redemption, the remainder being held in an emergency fund in the event of a break in the water system.

Mr. Kohl and the Mayor got into a discussion of the amount spent in affording unemployment relief during the last fiscal year and the Mayor read from a report showing the expenditure for this purpose of $18,381.95 between July 1931 and June 30, 1932.

Mr. Isaacs made a plea for abolition of the position of business manager demanding to know why it is necessary to have a business manager. The Mayor replied that the Council is without authority except when it is in session and that the Business Manager coordinates the city's activities and keeps the municipal machinery in operation subject to the direction of the Council.

"And besides," he said, "if we did not have a business manager we would have to have a street superintendent and a water superintendent, both of whose duties are performed by the Business Manager."

Referring to the protest against the tax rate Mayor Reavis asked Mr. Isaacs whether it was not a fact that his taxes would be actually less under the present tax rate than they were last year and Mr. Isaacs replied that this was true, perhaps, but that it was due to the decrease in valuations fixed by the assessor rather than because of any action the Council had taken.

The Mayor replied that it was because of the 20 per cent decrease in valuations that it had been necessary to increase the tax rate, but that the increase had not interfered with the purpose of actual tax reduction since the income from the new tax rate will be much less than last year.

Mr. Kohl wanted to know what was to happen to his resolution. Mayor Reavis replied that it had been referred to the Finance Committee, but expressed the belief that nothing would come of it since the tax ordinance had been adopted and certified to the county auditor for the purpose of tax collection.

NEARLY $45,000,000 LEFT BY OLYMPICS

A report on file today by the All-Year club, Southern California's National tourist advertising organization, shows that out-of-State visitors to the Xth Olympic spent $44,405,888 while here. A total of 384,400 tourists from other states of the United States and from foreign countries visited Southern California during the period of the Games," said President Sylvester L. Weaver.

DOUBLE DRIVE BRIDLE PATH CAVES IN AND TWO HORSES SWALLOWED UP IN HUGE HOLE

Two horses owned by the Santa Anita Riding Academy were buried alive yesterday morning while working on the Double Drive bridle-path just south of Orange Grove avenue, when both animals suddenly plunged through apparently solid earth into what was estimated to be a 60-foot chasm.

Acadia firemen were summoned, and managed to haul one horse some twenty feet up to ground level with the aid of block and tackle equipment. No trace could be found of the other beast, and it was assumed that it was either killed instantly by the tons of earth that fell in on top of it, or was smothered to death subsequently.

Various explanations were offered. Some were of the opinion that the animals fell through a thin crust of earth into an old deserted mine shaft. Others thought that in years gone by an artesian well was covered in a veritable trap. It was also considered that the ground had been gradually undermined by underground springs or seepage.

All that is clear in anyone's mind, however, is the fact that one minute two horses were being driven down the pathway, smoothing the turf for riders, and the next moment they both disappeared.

Hot Lead

By R. O. Calkin

CONGRATULATIONS to Comrade Andrew Killoran on his fine performance in Hot Lead last week. It promised a year of snappy, worthwhile work on the column when Comrade Killoran takes it over at the change of Post administration next month.

I know now why members of the rank and file go to conventions to make whoopee. There is not much else for them to do, outside of just sitting in seats assigned to them, listening, or standing around, talking. Of course, there are a few chances to shout "Aye" or "No," and to tell the chairman of your delegation (in my case, Post Commander Embree) how you want your vote cast in district caucus. At that, to be a delegate to an American Legion convention is interesting and valuable experience.

And the whoopee, so they tell me, is taking on a milder quality each succeeding year. There is less by virtue of a poor mind, stay-at-homes and non-Legionnaires have sometimes called "scandalous behavior." As a matter of fact, the only drunkenness that I saw was in a group that evidently had nothing to do with the convention, as they tipsily checked out of the Legion headquarters hotel. There was absolutely none of it in or about the convention hall.

Well, comrades, I marched in the parade. And it was some parade. After standing on the line of march, near the starting point, to get a look at the show, I pushed through the jam and joined the ranks of the 18th District contingent when it came along. It was near the end of the line, by virtue of a poor draw, or something. Not more than 20 of the delegation got into the parade, but we made the grade nicely, getting a few hands on the way. At one point, a voice from the crowd called "Attaboy, Sierra Madre." Our Chamber of Commerce ought to give the Post a citation on the strength of that. Here are the principal appointments in next year's organization of the Post. Roy Shetter will be Adjutant, and Henry Olsen, Service Officer. Comrade Tom Neale, in his fine devotion to Legion service, will continue to do notarial work required on veterans' papers.

MISSOURIANS TO PICNIC

The Missouri Society will hold its summer reunion and all day picnic at Bixby Park, Long Beach, all day, Sunday, August 28. There will be big doings with an estimated attendance of 25,000.

SERVICE - - -

In this office the word service has a big meaning. To be helpful to all irrespective of any monetary consideration. To present to any prospective buyer a truthful picture of the property that interests him—to remember always that the seller's interests must be protected—Insurance is needed now more than ever before. Real Estate is cheaper, the tendency is for prices to slowly advance. Rentals—houses with reasonable rents are in demand.

State's Aid Is Asked For Needy Here

Red Cross Asks Participation In Funds Allocated By The Government

A communication is being sent to Governor Ralph today by the local Red Cross Chapter requesting that Sierra Madre come in for her full share of funds which are to be loaned the state by the Federal government for apportionment among its various towns and districts.

The report gives full details of various Red Cross expenditures, and estimated future operating expenses.

Relief workers here were cheered this week by word from the National Red Cross headquarters stating that 500,000 bales of government owned cotton are being given the organization for distribution, some of which will come here. This cotton, made into goods, will be donated to needy families, for the making of simple dresses, pajamas, and like clothing.

An order from the local chapter has been sent east requesting 41 barrels of flour with which to help feed the hungry. To date the same number of barrels has already been received here.

Local efforts toward caring for the unemployed include the Red Cross garden on Ramona avenue. Tomatoes, cabbage, summer squash and Swiss chard are among the vegetables that are ripe there now and those in need may receive an order for them by applying at Red Cross headquarters.

AN ERA OF LEISURE

Sierra Madrans will be interested in the following communication from a frequent visitor here and friend of Miss Ella Shepard Bush, the city's noted miniaturist. It is signed by T. R. Fleming, of Long Beach, and follows:

After the hysteria of the letters from the dripping wets which have been flooding the columns of the newspapers, it is refreshing to read Clyde Doyle's call to prepare for the era of leisure which is imminent. When a nation expresses its conception of liberty in terms of alcohol it moral standards have reached their nadir. Any increase of leisure becomes a national menace, instead of a means of a progressive and deepening enrichment of life's inexhaustible resources.

Only those who are enthusiasts in the cultivation of the fine arts—music, sketching, painting, modeling, literature, poetry, drama and hobby riding, know the charm of daily living. Each one of these pursuits is a broad way that leads to the open fields of ineffable charm. "If you have everything," one of Barrie's characters remarked, "and have not charm in your daily life, you have nothing; but if you have charm and nothing else, you have everything." The fine arts are the deep resources of this incomparable boom, whereas every intoxicating moment gotten from beer or cocktails or raw whiskey must pay the devil's tax.

The dripping wet candidate in his acceptance speech said, "We must foil the saloon." Within ten days there were 65 requests for saloon licenses filed in Los Angeles. This saloon activity is a challenge to the moral, cultural and religious forces of the nation.

T. R. FLEMING.

With the Scouts

Joe Morgan and Charles Collins who have attended the fifth camp at Catalina Island, brought back glowing accounts of their adventures. They enjoyed most of all a hike taken to the highest mountain peak on the island. From there a wonderful view of all Catalina and the surrounding ocean was afforded. Many herds of wild goats were sighted on the trip.

A herd of wild, inquisitive steers who constantly wandered into camp kept everyone amused. Several times they had to be forcibly ejected by the scouts. Years ago these animals were brought to the island by a motion picture company and abandoned. An innovation at the camp this year was instruction in pewter pottery making.

No wonder a good time was had by all—just think... swimming, hiking, fishing, boating, camping and camp activities for ten glorious days.

BINGHAM GRAY WINS HOLLYWOOD SUPPORT

A movement supporting the candidacy of Bingham Gray for Superior Court, office 18, has been launched in Hollywood, sponsored by Warner Baxter, Gary Cooper, Mrs. E. B. Weirwick, Attorney Everett L. Ball, and others.

Attorney Ball declared, "Mr. Gray is one of the biggest and finest men that I know. His willingness to serve in this time of stress will meet with a tremendous response."

PRIZE DRAWINGS OF YOUNG ARCHITECT ARE ON EXHIBITION

A group of six prize architectural drawings by Edward C. Davis, Sierra Madre architect, is now on display in the window of W. R. Humphries, on West Central avenue.

Davis, who recently obtained his bachelor of architecture degree from the University of Southern California, is the son of Charles Davis, proprietor of the Central Meat Market.

Several of Davis' colored drawings on display are of houses especially designed for this section of the State, and are practical modifications of the old California style.

PARTIES DRAW MANY OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS

The weekly card parties, sponsored every Tuesday night by the St. Rita Altar Society, are attracting the attention of out-of-town residents. On Tuesday evening a party of over 20 persons motored from Monterey Park to enjoy an evening of bridge, 500 and bunco, and captured the first three prizes at bridge, the door prize and one of the awards at 500. Cash prizes will be awarded again next Tuesday evening. Winners for this week are Mrs. G. Gerhard, first, John S. Tracey, second, and William Bradley, third; at 500, James M. Ruddle, first; S. J. Maloney, second and Mary Maloney, third, at bridge, and Misses Barbara and Catherine Gerhard, first and second at bunco. Mrs. Woolman received the door prize.

A REAL PROBLEM

With 11.22 per cent or $14,080,223 of its 1931-32 tax levy gone delinquent, Los Angeles county ranks ninth in the list of California counties in this respect. Last year at this time the delinquencies here amounted to 6.12 per cent or $7,875,697. San Diego county tops the list with the highest percentage of delinquencies, 20.50.

A weighted average of all counties reporting gives a tax delinquency of 6.48 per cent for 1930-31 and 10.83 per cent for 1931-32. The study finds that the rates of change of delinquencies are not uniform between counties. Some have a rapid increase while others have a lesser rate of increase.

A study of the situation by the California Taxpayers Association concludes with this question: Is the total tax burden greater than the ability of the taxpayer to carry the cost? This is a question which must be answered by budget makers and administrators for 1932-33.

Women Tell Why It Pays To Buy Here

Essays Of Three Housewives View The Subject From Different Angles

An assortment of good and interesting reasons why, all things considered, it is not only proper but economical and otherwise advantageous to Trade in Sierra Madre are set forth in the essays submitted in the recent essay contest by Mrs. A. Olsen of 53 Suffolk street, Mrs. W. E. Craig, of 220 Mariposa and Mrs. T. L. Blanke, of 271 North Sunnyside avenue. The essays are published herewith:

By MRS. A. OLSEN

There was a song not many years ago about a certain person searching the world over for happiness, only to return to his home and find that happiness in his own back yard.

Is it not true that many people go great distances for things they need, when they may have found the very article they were looking for, at no more expense, in the store just around the corner? How much simpler and easier it would have been to have walked over to the neighborhood store and purchased it. It is not only simpler, but by buying at home you are really helping yourselves.

Property will increase in value, your friends will want to live in a thriving prosperous community. You will save time, energy and expense, you will feel that you are helping to make a desirable place in which to live. You will make new friendships by spending more time in Sierra Madre, and you will be proud to say, "Why, yes, I bought it right here in Sierra Madre. We can purchase everything we need in our own home town from friendly, reliable business men, in well equipped, up-to-date stores."

By MRS. W. E. CRAIG

We trade in Sierra Madre because it is our home and I love it. By trading at home, it gives you a chance to see your dollar again and when the merchants see you in their stores, it makes them happy and encourages them to increase their service to the community. I like to make people happy so let's all stick together as our towns do, for we are not lucky to live in such a beautiful town?

Let's boost and not knock, for nobody likes a knocker. Hard times should be good times in Sierra Madre—let's help to make it so. You can't go out of town and get something for nothing; if you don't believe it, try it.

The beauty of trading in our little home town is that you can call by phone or it is a pleasant walking distance to any of our stores or you can drive your car and return in a short time satisfied and not all tired out. You save time, strength and gasoline and give the merchants a chance to have a bigger and better stock of goods.

If you haven't become acquainted with our merchants, do so now—it's worth while.

By MRS. T. L. BLANKE

We who love Sierra Madre for its beauty, for its kindly people and environment, its monument to education, excellent churches and accommodating merchants, stand by our home town in this period of re-adjustment. And as it is the women who do most of the buying, it is up to the women mostly to bring prosperity back and restore faith in Sierra Madre.

Patronizing our home merchants is as much our duty in helping Sierra Madre to prosper as it is our duty to carefully budget the home income. Our merchants are most accommodating and friendly, and by comparing prices we find super values right here in Sierra Madre.

Boost Sierra Madre to the sky. She needs our friendship and our cooperation. Up here in the sweet clean air away from the jostle of the throng, to the heart that sings, comes the lilt of the song—"Boost Sierra Madre."

BUTTER AND EGG MAN NOW IN SECOND WEEK

Douglas Montgomery entered a second week's run on Tuesday evening in "The Butter and Egg Man," at the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

Montgomery plays the title role and Ralph Freud and Charles Levison are seen as two shoe-string show producers. Ruth Covell Levison plays the girl who attracts the "butter and egger."

difficult to displace as they are in Chicago now.

Mention was made of the fact that although news may be had of a new machine gun killing every day in one of the other big cities of the country, there has only been one machine gun murder in Los Angeles history—and the men connected were hung.

Quoting names such as Beesemeyer, Fitts pointed out that the swindlers and confidence men who have held the headlines in the past are all safe behind bars.

Introduced by Wilbur F. Thayer, of this city, the District Attorney was preceded by brief talks given by Judge Irvine Tappin, Judge Isaac Pach, Judge Charles Burnell, and former Judge Daniel Beecher, who is now chief deputy in Fitts' office, in charge of the criminal division, and a candidate for re-election to the bench.

Thayer, in his introductory address, mentioned the legislation candidacy of City Business Manager Al S. Myers, and spoke of the advantage of having district representation in the assembly in the person of a man such as Myers, who has already proven his worth in his handling of local affairs. This mention of Myers called forth a warm response from the crowd.

Judge Pach spoke for a powerful, well organized judiciary, and his theme was echoed by the majority of other speakers, who all gave their personal qualifications for re-election, and records of their past accomplishments.

Judge Thomas White, arriving late, spoke after Fitts, gave a penetrating and witty talk on how a Los Angeles Hearst newspaper should be run. He said:

"No newspaper, however powerful, should be able to touch the judiciary."

More than 300 local voters turned out to hear the first of the candidates for public office to come to Sierra Madre during this campaign. They were well entertained at the outset of the program by the Polhaus Band, a Los Angeles children's musical organization.

The Sierra Madre Jewish society served refreshments at their North Lima Street Temple to the city's political guests at the conclusion of the meeting.

Movies Of Passion Play And Community Singing To Feature Varied Program

Next Sunday evening at 7:45 the Red Cross will give another of its entertainments in the City Park. The outstanding number is a four reel film of the Passion Play, depicting the life of Christ from the cradle to the resurrection. Mrs. Cortia Lieben will contribute solos appropriate to the scenes shown. Mrs. Lieben will be accompanied by Mrs. Leslie Gaze at the piano.

The program also includes two dramatic readings and community singing led by Dean Bode.

The projection of the film and lighting effects will be in charge of Rudolph Hartman. All of the participants on this evening's program are Sierra Madre people.

The program will be in charge of Dean Bode who is a member of the Executive Board of the Red Cross Unemployment Relief Committee under whose auspices the entertainment is being given. A cordial invitation is extended to all and it is requested that the people be seated by 7:45.

Booth Tarkington's "The Trysting Place" will be presented by the Dram-Art Little Theatre from Hollywood on next Friday's Red Cross smiles program at the City Park. This program will also include a Mickey Mouse animated cartoon, a magic act sponsored by the Southern California Edison Company, and a San Gabriel tap dancer called Iams.

BARGAIN RATES FOR LABOR DAY TRAVEL

The attractiveness of Labor Day as an occasion for heavy excursion travel throughout the West will be enhanced this year by a five-day offering of cent-a-mile train rides by the Southern Pacific Company, it was made known yesterday.

Scheduled from September 1 to 5, the so-called Dollar Day roundtrip program will embrace the railroad's lines in six western states. A final return limit of midnight September 12 has been fixed for the excursions.

Here's Champion Olympiad Overlooked

Meet Miss Gladys Goodway of Linden, Calif. If there had been a milking contest in the Olympiad events Miss Goodway would certainly have been one of the contenders for she holds the honor of winning the milkmaid championship at Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona against a large field. Miss Goodway is preparing to defend her title against all comers at the fair this fall.

Hawks Goes Back To Days Of Gold Rush

Picks Up Again The Work
He Performed When Bodie
Was On Top O' The World

"Jim" Hawks has gone back to his old love—gold assaying. Thirty years ago that was his job, up in the hell-roaring country that is Bodie. And now, because the market for old gold rises in times of depression, and because for a short period of time the State mint is taking in small quantities of the precious stuff, he is at it again.

England may be off the gold standard, but the United States are still interested enough in to furnish newspaper headlines. Hawks' recent activities furnished grounds for some reminiscences of gold and old California too.

Bodie has burned, is dust now, but when Jim Hawks was there Bodie was very much alive, very much in keeping with any man's idea of what a rip-roaring California town should be.

It was in this vicinity that years ago Mark Twain stayed at a boarding house. The old landlady told Hawks the story. Twain liked his liquor, got into the habit of disturbing the rest of the boarders by coming home in the early morning hours, and making a terrible noise in climbing the stairs. Everyone else in the house resented such a disturbance, told the landlady they would move unless she did something about it. So she reprimanded Twain.

He looked at her, smiling, and said: "Now say, Mrs. Grady, did you ever know a man who could carry a keg of whiskey up the stairs, and make any less noise than I do?"

Trees being a decided novelty in that high desert country, the miners would bring small cottonwood trees from not so near towns, and decorate the Bodie main street every Fourth of July. And in the winter time—from November until July—there was snow, poker, and extreme isolation.

"There's no getting around it," says Hawks, "you have to get up in the mining towns in the northern part of California for real towns. There is real California. Not changed from what it was in the days of Bret Harte.

"But times do change. . . Thirty years ago, when I was in Bodie, the power line that brought the mines their juice were the longest in the world. They were considered miracles of modern science and engineering. And the span was but 30 miles."

POTPOURRI

Fireflies

There are several kinds of fireflies, the most common of which is the lightning bug. The lightning mechanism, usually situated on the sides of the abdomen, is composed of tissues to which are connected air tubes and nerves. The latter excite the air tubes, which convey to the fatty tissue the oxygen from which is produced the light.

JUDGE TAPLIN WINS MANY ENDORSEMENTS

Strong support from leaders in every strata of society is making the campaign of Judge Irvin Taplin for election to division No. 5 of the Superior Court one of the most intensive of the many political races of the year.

Endorsements have been literally pouring into Taplin headquarters the past 10 days, it is revealed. Among these are included the endorsements and promises of support from the Women's Better Government League, the Railway Employees Political Club, the Women's Voters League, the Political Reform League, the Public Service League, Public Affairs, Slavonic Alliance of L.A., Down Town Republican Club of Los Angeles, Citizens Voters League, Steuben Society of America, Independent Order of Veterans, Public Service Bureau of Los Angeles, East Los Angeles Civic Association, Los Angeles Lodge Chinese American Citizens Alliance, United Veterans of the Republic, Taxpayers Non-Partisan League, Democratic Anti-prohibition League, 13th District Voters Protective League, Political Reform League, Economic Commercial and Political League, Lincoln Heights-El Sereno Veterans Political Alliance, Disabled War Veterans of the 12th District and many others.

City Is Logical Place For Third Great Art Center

those I saw. In the distance . . . My dream was abruptly ended by the sudden thought that I was not there to dream but to obtain the opinion of one whose words would help greatly to materialize this dream so I put my second question to Gordon Coutts. I said:

"You are familiar with Carmel and Laguna as the two outstanding art centers on the coast, of course. In your judgment, has either place more to offer for the cultured, the art loving, than has Sierra Madre? Do you not think it possible to create here the third and—perhaps ultimately a major art center?"

"Ah, yes," he answered, "not only possible but logical that it should be so." His vision wandered out the window to our glorious mountains which twilight had transformed into mammoth, iridescent jewels pillowed against a pale green, velvet sky.

He continued: "Here one is so intimate with Nature and her every mood. Your homes nestle in the folds of the hills as children nestle in their mother's arms. No one can ever be great until he has learned to know and love nature. He must learn to turn to nature as the child turns to its mother, for understanding, love, protection and approbation. Here you are in close communication with a throbbing metropolis yet so fortunately situated that you are free from the turmoil, the noise, the maddening pace which city dwellers must endure."

IN YOUR GARDEN

GARDEN QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

By Jessie Ward Russell
Landscape Gardener

Question—Our Hibiscus plants are tall and leggy looking. What can we do to make them more compact. The foliage is small and few and far between, too.

Answer—Pruning will thicken up the branches and more water will produce foliage. Make a deep and large basin about the plants and give them enough water so that it will penetrate deeply in the ground. No doubt you have been sprinkling them often but the roots underneath are not getting any water.

Question—When is the best time to prune Heather Plants?

Answer—In the winter, just after they finish blooming.

Q—Is there a pink-flowering Bridal wreath?

A—Yes. It is called Spirea Anthony Watterli. It blooms in the late spring and summer.

Q—What are some good shrubs that bloom in the summer?

A—Crepe Myrtle, Oleander, Hibiscus, Buddlea (Summer Lilac), Abelia, Plurima, Lantanas and Fuchsia.

Q—What trees can I grow for quick summer shade?

A—Acacia Melanoxylon, Acacia, Florabunda, Umbrella Trees, Pepper trees, Eucalyptus trees, and Grevillea Robusta trees.

Q—Our avocado trees are making very little growth this summer. What is wrong with them?

A—Probably lack of water, deep in the ground. Make larger basins so that the water can collect and sink deeply in the soil. Just surface sprinkling may keep the trees alive but it will give them no new growth.

Q—Should three year old avocado trees be pruned so that the lower limbs will not touch the ground?

A—Yes. They should have enough foliage by this time to shade the trunk if trimmed up two or three feet from the ground.

TIMELY SUGGESTIONS FOR HOME GARDENS

The Vinca may be used very satisfactorily at Holiday time for making into wreaths and general decorations if so desired, when holly and other greens are not at hand, or seem a little expensive to use.

A few plants started this year will surprisingly soon result in a fine permanent bed of little trailer. It will grow in poor soil, but of course thrives best in ground that has been enriched with well rotted barnyard manure.

Space should be gotten ready now for planting stock, snapdragon, calendulas, French marigolds, sweet peas, etc. in order to have plenty flowers for Christmas and all through the winter.

Keep on setting out zinnias, marigolds, petunias, nasturtiums and others for continued fall blooms.

Chrysanthemums should be given some special care just now, to be assured of these flowers in profusion and of choicest quality this fall; keep them growing vigorously with plenty of water and fertilizer.

One Answer to Higher Taxes

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Sec. Agricultural Legislative Committee of California

"Fixed charges"—continuing and automatically increasing expenditures, voted by the people, either by initiative, or by constitutional amendment—constitute one of the major obstacles to economical government in California.

The voter's answer in the future to all new "fixed charges" should be an emphatic "No!" That verdict—the verdict of the Agricultural Legislative Committee of California, given in behalf of its 70,000 farmer-members—must be made the verdict of farmers, business men and common taxpayers in every walk of life if there is to be an end to exorbitant spending and oppressive taxation.

California's voting taxpayers in other words, must practice what they preach—economy! And to practice it they must stop kiting governmental expenditures on election day.

The "fixed charges," written into the statutes or the constitution by direct vote of the people, is likewise impossible of curtailment except by a second vote of the people—a costly and slow process which blocks prompt and effective action in time of financial emergency, it was pointed out by the Agricultural Legislative Committee.

"The comparative inflexibility of governmental budgets, due to the large proportion of 'fixed charges' voted by the people, all of which are impossible of reduction in periods of financial stress, is a prime difficulty in the way of effective economy in expenditures," the farm committee found. "Hereafter, therefore, it is recommended that new 'fixed charges' be avoided in every possible way."

Great Ballets to Be Presented in Hollywood Bowl

The greatest evening of dancing ever given in Hollywood Bowl will take place Tuesday evening (Aug. 30) when Ernest Belcher and Theodore Kosloff, two of the foremost ballet masters, present their dancers in terpsichorean episodes. More than 200 dancers will take part. Above is Vera Fredova, premier danseuse of the Kosloff ballet.

TRUST DEEDS VS. MORTGAGES

A proposal will be made at the November election to do away with trust deeds in favor of mortgages; and it is to be feared that many people will be misled into thinking that this move will be in the interest of the borrower. Contrary to much that has been said in recent months, banks do not thrive upon the disadvantage of their customers; but are vitally concerned when they see a step contemplated which will be nothing but an attack on borrower and property owner alike.

Should the trust deed be eliminated, and the more cumbersome mortgage substituted, the result will be smaller loans and consequent shrinkage in property values. Refinancing will be rendered more difficult, and unnecessary loss will be entailed. Banks and other lending agencies are interested in the maintenance of reasonable bases for credit. Real property is after all a most important basis and it will not serve any party well to depreciate his holdings in order that more frequent foreclosure fees may be charged.

RE-ELECTION

— OF —

WILLIAM E. EVANS

CONGRESS

From the Eleventh District of California Is of Vital Importance to the People of the District and State

CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM E. EVANS

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF—During the recent Congress, Representative Evans voted for the enactment of the Refinance Corporation Act, the Home Loan Bank Bill, expansion of Federal Reserve discount power, and the Glass Currency Expansion Bill.

These relief measures will make available approximately $5,000,000,000 for relief of unemployment.

His six years of experience as a member of the House of Representatives, together with his recognized ability, industry and courage, the high esteem in which he is held by local and national party leaders, the seniority which gives him preference in committee assignments—all qualify him for even more effective service in the future.

Legislation affecting the welfare of Southern California which received the support of Congressman Evans during his terms of office include:

The Hoover Dam Bill.
The Colorado River Aqueduct Measure.
Amendment of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act to authorize the purchase of securities of the Metropolitan Water District to enable the district to pay the costs of building the aqueduct to the Colorado River.

Annual appropriations for the construction of Hoover Dam in a total of over $30,000,000.
Reapportionment of the membership of the House giving to Los Angeles County EIGHT members of Congress instead of two as heretofore. Congressman Evans was largely responsible for engineering this bill through the House, after six similar measures had failed in the past 10 years.

Protection of Southern California's water supply by withdrawing nearly 500,000 acres of government mountain land from public entry.

Authorizing improvement of the Los Angeles-Long Beach Harbor at a cost approximating $8,500,000 without local aid as heretofore required.

Provision of adequate protective tariffs for California citrus and other agricultural and industrial products.

Expanding the Federal Building program to include a court and office building at Los Angeles, a Federal building in Glendale, and other structures in the district, some of which are under construction at this time.

Democrats Hear Candidates For Party Nominations

Declaring himself as uncompromisingly opposed to the 18th Amendment, Justus S. Wardell, candidate for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate, addressed a meeting of Sierra Madre Democratic voters at the City Park Monday night.

Wardell gave a brief resume of his activities in the State. Born in California, he has ever been active in support of his party. On one occasion he was drafted to run for Governor. Newspaperman and public office holder, he has been prominent in the political life of San Francisco. He was introduced here by R. W. Black, his district captain.

Also introduced to the meeting were Albert D. Hadley, candidate for Congress on the Democratic ticket, from this district, A. D. Gibbs, of the Democratic Central Committee, Mrs. Eileen Cardiff, candidate for the Legislature, and Mrs. Cora B. Corum, of this city, aspirant for a place on the Democratic Central Committee.

Introduced by George Hapgood, master of ceremonies, and one of the chief Democratic workers in the city, was the sole Republican on the program, Al S. Myers, Sierra Madre's candidate for the Assembly on the Republican ticket. Business Manager Myers expressed the hope that he might have the privilege of being the Republican to oppose Mrs. Cardiff in the November election. His few impromptu words were well received.

RACE TRACK WILL BE CENTER OF HUGE CITY SAYS McGROARTY

Dedicating the ground for the Santa Anita race course in the interest of clean racing, Anita Baldwin broke ground for the million dollar Arcadia enterprise of Joseph M. Smoot last Friday. Representing Sierra Madre in the opening ceremonies were City Business Manager Myers, Councilman William Lees and Fire Chief W. D. Richards of the city. George Hapgood, William J. Schiltz, and A. Hawk.

John Steven McGroarty, in his address on the history of the track site, told of how "Lucky" Baldwin acquired the land through an old Spanish grant. He went on to say that oneday the race course and its surrounding park would be a "refreshing pleasure spot in the midst of an almost boundless city... extending from Santa Barbara to San Diego."

Among the notables present was one Tod Sloan, who was the foremost jockey of his day. He was greeted by George Hapgood. Hapgood's father owned horses while the family resided in the East, and was an especial friend of Sloan's.

UNEMPLOYED HOLD TWO ENTERTAINMENTS

Last Monday night's social, one of the weekly unemployed gatherings, was divided between the Parish House and the tennis courts of the City Park. Earl William's Upland orchestra furnished music for those who chose to dance out of doors, while a small number were entertained at the church with selections by Mrs. Kiggins, Jedney Davis, Bill Bartie and Fred Hoevel.

Punch was served at the Parish House through the courtesy of Mrs. A. F. Snell and Fred Albrecht. Mrs. F. C. Albrecht was chairman of refreshments. Dean Arnold Bode presided, as usual.

Local Sport Paragraphs

By John Copeland

Recommended for the biggest sports surprise of the week, locally or otherwise—The severe trouncing the Soldiers suffered last Friday eve at the hands of the All-Stars.

The score was 6-2. To passer-bys it looked like the combined local teams were merely having a workout under the lights.

Brain and Jobie pitched. The main power in the Legion's battery, one Mr. Young, was held to a scratch hit. Brain showed up good.

After the shooting was over pocketbooks appeared which said that the durn whippersnappers couldn't do it again. And the report was that everybody concerned was willing to make a two out of three fight of it.

Not to rub it in or anything, but certain All-Stars say that the Soldiers' only runs came as result of too much horseplay among the winners. What with pocketbooks out it's probable that in event of a return scrap nobody will be dilly-dallying—on either side.

Edith Hawks, No. 1 girl tennis player of this town, isn't the only Hawks on the courts now. Observed several times in the past few days was one "Dick" Hawks. He almost won a splendid doubles match, but was handicapped by his partner.

Tennis Association rules applying to court hogs aren't being very strictly observed of late. The thirteenth game is supposed to be the rubber game, when there are many waiting to play, and children who have daytime at their disposal are not supposed to use the city courts as a playground during the few hours open to night players.

Pre-season football, of the touch variety, was played Sunday by Messrs. Bob Chavis, Thomas, Joseph and Carlton Scalzo, Les Miller, etc.

A three-point deer, the first to be brought into Sierra Madre this season, was bagged by Bus Thomas, Sammy Schwartz, and Louis Neumann last weekend up in Ventura County. The boys had to carry it 11 miles to where their car was parked, and after they got it home and dressed it, the scales showed 138 pounds. Sometime in the near future they expect to go out after dove.

Prospects for the All-Stars' future: Bus Brain, pitcher, and Bob Kinney, left-field. Brain, the locals' mainstay in catcher's position at present, has showed good stuff on the other end of the line in practice. Kinney used to play ball here, lives now in Pasadena, but is considering coming up to play under the lights. This said he will be an A-1 addition in the outfield.

After the last Arcadia fracas the All-Stars went up to player Marsh's home for a bite to eat, and perhaps to chew the rag somewhat also.

No local representative will be in on the Kiwanis golf tournament this year. "Bill" Middough declining on the grounds that last time he came within two strokes of bringing home the booby prize—and didn't count the swing he took when he threw his club away.

And another month is going to hear the boys about town

School Tax Rate To Jump As Assessed Valuations Fall

An additional 24 cents per $100 of assessed valuation will have to be paid by Los Angeles County taxpayers to support the county schools during 1932-33, it was announced by Auditor Herber E. Payne at the Board of Supervisors' public budget hearing on Tuesday.

The increase in total money to be raised, however, will be nominal, Payne said. The rate increase from 48 to 72 cents becomes necessary because of the drop in assessed valuations, Payne said, and the proposed rate will raise little if any more than last year's rate. Board members stated that they would oppose the increased levy, but they were informed by Payne that the move is mandatory under State law.

Fire Flames

By one of the boys

WE WERE very lucky with the fire at the Corum Stables. Right next to the mountains and with our big truck in the shop for repairs, we can thank our lucky stars that we did not have one of those mountain fires, that we all love. Stored under a flat sheet iron roof, several hundred bales of hay at the stables caught fire from some undetermined source, and were it not for the slow burning process of baled hay, the tale of this fire would have had a different end.

The Canyon "Goat" was put into use on this fire, with her chief engineer and custodian at the wheel. Bob Newberry is the "Goat's" companion. Our expert nozzle man, Tom Schwartz gave a fine display of spraying. As soon as somebody announced that coffee was ready, the chief had to hold some of the brave lads, for fear they would fall off the hill in the rush. Mrs. Corum prepared a very fine breakfast for the firemen and from now on our highly praised coffee cook will have to step up and take notice, for the coffee Mrs. Corum made was more better.

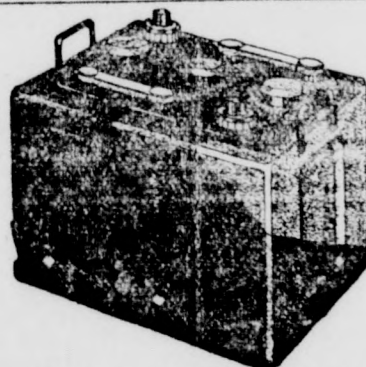

Practically all the members of the fire department were on the job and despite the hour of the morning, some of the wives were there also.

This is meeting night. All good firemen will be there. Besides a good time, we have an idea that all the hose will have to be taken down and cleaned.

—Fire's Out—

The California Automobile Racing Association announces automobile races for this Sunday, August 28th, at 2 o'clock. These races will be held alternate Sundays. The track is located at the Tri-City Airport on Highway 99, a short distance from Colton.

High Award Received By Ex-Soldiers

Two Of Five Local Veterans Get Medals Of The Order Of The Purple Heart

Two of five Sierra Madre ex-service men known to be entitled to the decoration have just been awarded medals of the Order of the Purple Heart.

The award of valor was established by George Washington on August 2, 1782, and bestowed upon soldiers of the Revolution cited for meritorious service and authorized to wear wound stripes. The medal is in the form of a gold heart suspended by a purple ribbon. Its use was revived by the War Department three years ago. It is considered quite remarkable that a town the size of Sierra Madre should be the home of so many veterans entitled to the decoration.

Commander A. H. Embree of the local American Legion Post has received his medal, but is entitled to a further and special citation upon it, he having been wounded many times in addition to being gassed. The other local veteran to receive the award is Assistant City Clerk Daniel H. Lewis.

The terse service report upon which the decoration came to Commander Embree says:

"A. H. Embree, wounded July 26, 1918, and October 18, 1918, July 26, shot through right wrist while advancing north-east of Chateau Thierry. October 18, shot through left wrist, left leg and foot, right elbow, right shoulder, back and other places too numerous to mention. Lay in hospital eight months. In addition to wounds was gassed. Served as Corporal, Co. M, 168th Infantry, 42nd Division."

A copy of the service report that accompanied the medal conferred upon "Dan" Lewis is equally brief. It follows: "Wounded Sunday afternoon, September 29, 1918, in the Meuse-Argonne offensive, at Trossel Ferme, near Eulipostaine, France. Member of Co. C., 316th Engineers, 91st Division. First Battalion of the 316th Engineers was sent into the line two days before, as infantry, to close a gap on the left flank of the Division's front."

Mayor H. Clay Reavis, Harry C. Scott and Russell V. Cromwell, of the local Legion, are the only others known to be eligible, although there may be others outside of the Legion Post who are in line for the distinction should they choose to file application.

Eight Marvelous Days and Nights

All-Stars Lose 12 to 1, Win By 8 to 6

Trounce Old Oiler Rivals But
Fall Before Arcadia's
Star Hurler

After taking a 12 to 1 racing by the Arcadia Sierra Leaguers at Arcadia on Thursday the Sierra Madre All-Stars came back to trounce the Union Oilers 8 to 6 here on Tuesday night in a game featured by long hits. Each team slammed out two homers and three base hits were no novelty.

Loftus, Arcadia hurler, again stood in the way of the locals on Thursday. He was touched up for eight hits, but they were so scattered that there was no chance to score until Brain crossed the plate, preventing a shut out in the ninth. Five Sierra Madre errors helped considerably to boost Arcadia's score. Brain and Malone were the only Sierra Madreans to get more than one hit and the delivery of Loftus was so deceptive that five of them couldn't connect at all.

Sierra Madre scored eight runs on eight hits against the Oilers. Malone and Marsh both got homers. A long hit by Pratt looked good for another circuit drive, but he pulled up at third base. Miller and Rosenga hit homers for the Arcadians, who scored their six runs on seven hits. This is the score of Tuesday's game:

BIGGEST ORDER FOR HYMNALS IS PLACED

The Christian Science Publishing Society has just placed the largest known single order for hymnals ever placed in the United States.

It calls for 400,000 clothbound books and 10,000 de luxe full leather-bound books. They will be distributed throughout the world.

QUAINT PLAYS IN AN UNUSUAL THEATRE

Many parties of Southern California visitors to the Olympic Games drove to the Little Theatre in Padua Hills at Claremont for the series of special programs which the Little Theatre is featuring during the summer months.

Those who appreciate music, particularly the Spanish and Mexican songs and dances, are enthusiastic about "Serenata Mexicana," which depicts the life of a small village in Mexico.

Red Cross Finishes House Number Job

More than $400 has been expended during the past month by the Sierra Madre Red Cross for work done on the painting of house numbers and street names on the curbs throughout the city.

Besides giving approximately 60 men work, the plan has made the city house numbers uniform, and thereby benefited the postal employees, policemen, delivery men and strangers attempting to locate a friend's house at night.

The numbers, dark green on an aluminum background, are painted with durable paint, and afford good visibility at night.

A CORRECTION

E. D. Burbank was erroneously quoted in a recent issue of The News as saying in his talk at a Kiwanis luncheon that the Steinberger family was responsible for the present city library. The ground upon which the library stands, and a large portion of the building fund was donated in 1885 by Mrs. R. E. Ross, mother of Mrs. L. E. Steinberger.

W. E. TELFER DIES HERE AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

W. E. Telfer, well-known accountant, passed away on Sunday at his home, 124 South Hermosa avenue, following a long illness. He was born in Toledo, Ohio, and spent most of his boyhood in Florida, coming to the Pacific Coast, while a young man. He spent a number of years with the State Board of Control as an accountant, and was auditor for the State Corporation Department, later becoming Pacific Coast auditor for the Postal Telegraph Company. He retired three years ago due to ill health and moved from his home in San Mateo to Sierra Madre about a year ago.

Although ill during his residence here he was perpetually cheerful and he made a large number of friends. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nan Booth Telfer, one son, William B. Telfer, and one daughter, Miss Mary Jean Telfer, of Sierra Madre; his mother, Mrs. Cordelia Telfer, and sister, Mrs. Jane A. Stewart of San Mateo; another sister, Mrs. James Warner of Corpus Christi, Texas, and a brother, John Telfer of Kansas City, Mo.

Funeral services were held in Los Angeles on Tuesday and interment was in Rosewood.

"El Rancho San Antonio" features romance, music, and a touch of melodrama which seems to characterize most portrayals of the days of '49. The play deals with the coming of the Americans and the start of the gold rush to California. The plot of the play is based on local history.

"Serenata Mexicana," a scene from which is pictured above, is produced each week on Monday and Thursday afternoon at 2:30 and on Tuesday and Friday evenings at 8:30. "El Rancho San Antonio" is given at the matinee hour and in the evening on Wednesday and Saturday of each week.

HONOR LOCAL YOUTH AT C. E. CONVENTION

At a joint meeting of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor and Young People's societies on Sunday evening at Bethany Church, Ben Smith, president of the Intermediate society, told of his experiences during the week he attended the Los Angeles County Christian Endeavor Union summer conference at Taquitz Pines in the San Jacinto Mountains. He revealed that after considering the question for over a year, he had made the decision to prepare for the ministry. Even though Mr. Smith was the only delegate from Sierra Madre, he received the honor of being elected to the presidency of the student body of the conference.

Miss June M. Lacey will lead the Intermediate Christian Society meeting next Sunday evening on the discussion of "What are the qualifications of a Christian?" Mr. Smith will preside.

GARDEN PARTY HERE FOR GROUP FROM MONROVIA

Mrs. H. S. Dowling of 61 Suffolk avenue, entertained on Wednesday for a number of Monrovia friends. Luncheon was served picnic style under the trees in the garden. "Cootie" was played during the afternoon. Mrs. S. Gray winning highest points, the lowest score going to Mrs. Ralph Powell. The guests were Mrs. J. M. Kinsey, Mrs. I. Griffiths, Mrs. George Tholl, Miss E. Gray, Mrs. Ralph Powell and Mrs. S. Gray of Monrovia.

HALT PYRAMIDING ASSESSMENTS UNDER IMPROVEMENT ACT

Pyramiding of assessments, under the ruling of the Mattoon act, has been abolished by a resolution just passed by the board of supervisors and their decision is upheld by a ruling issued by Attorney General U. S. Webb, of San Francisco.

Webb declared that the pyramiding of delinquencies, such as has been done in Huntington Drive and Las Tunas boulevard improvement districts, is unfair to those who regularly pay their taxes, and that "there should be no progression of such taxes from year to year because of the delinquency."

The supervisors action will cause bondholders some loss, but will assure property owners whose taxes and assessments are delinquent of their property. Immediate relief from conditions existing under the Mattoon Act is assured property holders by the Board's move.

SIXTY LAP RACE IS ON SPEEDWAY'S BILL

Another new race will be inaugurated in the Legion Ascot Speedway Wednesday night, August 31, when a 60-lap main event will be held. This is the first time that a race of this length has ever been attempted at the Alhambra oval and a large crowd is expected.

Included with the 60-lap feature will be a 15-lap Class B main event, 5 five-lap heat races and the two-lap Italian Helmet Dash. Qualifying will begin at 7 o'clock with the helmet dash opening the program at 8:30.

Flu Fatal To R H Ballard, Edison Head

Rose From Office Boy To Head Of West's Greatest Utility Company

Russell Henry Ballard, president of the Southern California Edison Company, died Wednesday at his Los Angeles home at the age of 57, from relapse attack of influenza. Funeral services will be conducted today at St. Paul's Cathedral, 615 South Figueroa street, in Los Angeles.

Associated with the Edison company since its founding, and one of the chief figures in the electric lighting industry in Southern California since 1898, when the concern was called the West Side Lighting Company, Mr. Ballard gained National recognition for his work. He was called to serve as president of the National Electric Light Association and the Pacific Coast Electrical Association.

His community leadership was well attested last June when he received the honorary degree of doctor of business administration from the University of Southern California. The University's president, Rufus B. von Klein Smid, characterized Mr. Ballard as "a champion of all good causes, and a citizen of rare services."

Among his contributions to the cultural and scientific growth of this part of the state was his interest in the development of the California Institute of Technology, in Pasadena. He was head of the Institute Associates, who are organized to further the college's progress.

He went to Los Angeles as a young man of 22, and worked himself up to the high position he held at his death from the position of office boy. He held practically every executive position there was during his steady climb to leadership.

He was elected president of the Southern California Edison Company in 1928. As an executive of the company he broadened its scope to include an area of 55,000 square miles in Southern and California. It was largely through his efforts that the company developed the hydroelectric power sources in the Sierra Nevada, and the West's largest steam-electric generating station, on Terminal Island, Long Beach.

The Sierra Madre Southern California Edison office, at 40 North Baldwin avenue, will be closed today in tribute to his memory.

MANY ADMIRE MODEL HOME ON HILLSIDE

Built in a setting that furnishes an unobstructed view of both mountains and valley, the Robert Smith home at 633 West Alegria avenue, now open for public inspection, is pronounced by those who have seen it, as second to no home in Sierra Madre for modern convenience, and beautiful and solid construction.

The house is designed after the modern Spanish style of stucco with tile roof. Upon entering the living room the visitor sees that the floor, of wide mahogany boards, gives the appearance of fine hardwood—which it is. The woodwork is gum trim, the doors are all paneled, and solid. The large studio window gives the appearance of a painting of the wide valley below.

Among attractive features of the place are the many extra large closets and over-sized drawers, cedar closets, extra tile bath and shower, economical heating system, chromium plated plumbing, 79 electrical outlets—a phone in every room, if you wish.

REAL WORK STARTS ON RACE TRACK PROJECT

With construction work getting under way Monday on the Santa Anita race track and jockey club project at Sierra Madre avenue and Huntington Drive, 25 men will be employed in clearing the site, staking the track and steeplechase course, and assembling the tractors, graders, steam shovels and wagons.

The week after next more than 200 men will start work on the actual construction of the track, according to Joseph M. Smoot, president of the Los Angeles Jockey Club. After this item is completed the grandstand, stables and other buildings will be constructed.

THIS PICNIC FOR THE REAL OLD TIMERS

The annual picnic reunion for all people from all states and countries who are over 70 years old (or young) will be held all day Saturday, September 3, in Sycamore Grove Park. A special call goes to all who are over 100 and to those over 90. They are all to go to the platform for the program hour.

Let's Be Loyal To Sierra Madre

Sierra Madre offers the best equipped candidate for the Legislature from the 48th Assembly District in Al S. Myers.

He is fitted by practical knowledge in engineering and public administration to represent this district as no other candidate before the people.

He is worthy of our undivided support. As a matter of civic pride his home town should give him a practically unanimous vote at next Tuesday's Primary Election.

Let it be said of Sierra Madre that it stands by its own people—that is the sort of town real people want to live in.

The following committee sponsoring this appeal urges that you show your loyalty to Sierra Madre by voting for 'Round the Town...

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. T. Herbert of 61 Bonita avenue, enjoyed the weekend at Big Bear Lake.

Miss Marada Louis of 334 North Lima street, is enjoying a vacation at Yosemite.

Mrs. Estella Carr of East Central avenue, entertained with two tables of bridge on Thursday evening.

Miss Margaret Moore of 689 West Central avenue, returned on Monday from a four day stay at Pinewood.

Mr. and Mrs. William Laidlaw of 83 North Sunnyside avenue, entertained Bruce Elliott and family of North Hollywood, at dinner on Sunday.

Dr. Marie A. Everett of 153 Santa Anita court, with Mr. and J. C. Boice and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bifield of Los Angeles, will enjoy a picnic on Sunday at Fendell Park, Los Angeles.

Mrs. W. M. Bristol of Redlands, is house guest of the R. S. Jensen family of 561 West Grand View avenue, this week. Mrs. Bristol is the aunt of Mrs. Jensen.

A. H. Embree, R. O. Calkin, Roy Pickett, Roy Shetler, Colin Hill and A. S. Killorhan attended the installation of officers of the San Gabriel American Legion.

Post on Thursday evening at San Gabriel.

Mrs. Myrtle G. Hill and mother, Mrs. A. J. McMullen, of 168 East Central avenue, returned this week from a vacation of two weeks at Long Beach.

Mrs. Henry Olsen of 25 Sierra Place and her sister and two children enjoyed a vacation last week at the Olsen cabin in the Big Santa Anita.

R. S. White and daughter, Miss Maja White, from Wauwaloosa, Wis., will return East this week, after spending two months with Miss Edith Rankin and Miss Louise Judson of Cypress Court.

Mrs. Lillian Isabel Lewis of Palo Alto, has been staying at her cabin, Lewis Terrace, in Sierra Madre Canyon for a few weeks. She came south to enjoy the Olympic games. Before her return she will take a trip to Ensenada.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren O. Preston and family of 503 West Montecito avenue, enjoyed Thursday on Balboa Island. Warren Jr., remained to spend the weekend with his cousins, Rudolph and Robert Hartman, who are vacationing at the beach.

Members of the Friendship Club are industriously working on silk blocks for a comforter. Each member is to put as many pieces in her quilt block as she has pennies saved. The lady with the largest number of pieces will be given the silk comforter when completed.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Bailey of Burbank, who were married in Los Angeles on Saturday evening, Mrs. Polly Burns of 65 East Laurel avenue, entertained with a buffet luncheon on Sunday. Mr. Bailey is the nephew of Mrs. Burns. Eighteen guests were present.

The serious illness of Mr. Midgough's mother, who took a sudden turn for the worse on Thursday, called Mr. and Mrs. William Midgough of 196 East Central avenue, to her bedside in Long Beach. It is feared that she may not recover from the paralytic stroke that she suffered last week.

Honoring Sam Blumenthal of Hollywood, who was visiting in town, Mrs. G. Picard of Belle Vue court, entertained with a bridge party on Monday evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Bell, Miss Mary Funk, Miss Mary Young, Mrs. H. Rally, Mrs.

Grace Goslin, Miss Margaret Fitzgerald, Mrs. A. M. Cain, Mrs. Anna Le Conte, Miss Bess Trainor, Miss Jean Nash and Mrs. Marjorie Diadul.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gerlach of San Francisco have been visiting for about a week at the home of Mr. Gerlach's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gerlach of 715 West Montecito avenue. Earl Gerlach is the brother of Harlan Gerlach of 201 Carter avenue.

Miss Annunciata Schiltz of 67 East Highland avenue, entertained a group of her sorority sisters of the Gamma Sigma Omega at her home on Thursday evening. Refreshments, dancing and cards were enjoyed. Miss Schiltz attends the Sacred Heart Academy, Los Angeles.
